

WOKING SPEECH AND DRAMA FESTIVAL 2011

Last weekend Coworth-Flexlands was represented by twenty six performers at the Woking Speech and Drama Festival at Christ Church. What an impact they made! The children entered the verse speaking section where they had to perform a piece of poetry set by the festival organisers and the Humorous Verse class. They competed with Guildford High School, and some private entries.

The girls rose to the occasion and were a true credit to the school. They were praised for good diction and facial expression as well as for their confidence to perform solo at quite a vast venue. Also worthy of mention is how they conducted themselves and of their support for each other within their groups. The adjudicator emphasised how events such as these equip individuals with essential life skills, which they will carry and develop further.

Special mention needs to be made of Laura, Isobel and Saskia in Year 4 who achieved 1st, 2nd and 3rd places respectively in their class and to Camelia in Year 6 who was awarded 3rd place in the Humorous Verse Class. Well Done!
