1. Policy Statement

Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education (PSHE) helps to give children the knowledge, skills and understanding they need to lead confident, healthy, independent lives and to become informed, active, responsible citizens. They reflect on their experiences and understand how they are developing personally and socially, tackling many of the spiritual, moral, social and cultural issues that are part of growing up. They learn to understand and respect our common humanity, diversity and differences so that they can go on to form the effective, fulfilling relationships that are an essential part of life and learning and appreciate what it can mean to be a positive member of multicultural society.

The National Curriculum states that 'all schools should make provision for personal, social, health and economic education (PSHE), drawing on good practice.'

According to the Education Act 2002 and the Academies Act 2010, the PSHE curriculum should be a balanced and broadly-based curriculum which 'promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils at the school and of society, and prepares pupils at the school for opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life.'

The aims of PSHE are to enable children to:

- Live healthy lifestyles
- Address personal hygiene
- Develop an awareness of changing and growing
- Deal with different emotions in an appropriate way
- Keep safe
- Communicate well with others and work as a team
- Define, identify and know how to respond to bullying
- Know where and how to seek help when needed
- Treat everybody with respect
- Form and build positive relationships
- Understand the reasons for rules, and their responsibility to keep them
- Understand how public institutions and services operate and are important to life in a modern civilized society
- Learn about their responsibility in caring for others
- Be active in their own learning
- Be active within their community
- Manage money well
- Keep safe online
- Self-assess and identify their strengths and weaknesses
- Know how to make emergency calls
- Know basic First Aid
- Work collaboratively and respectfully
- Appreciate diversity
- Empathise with other points of view
- Express opinions clearly
- Understand the changes that occur in puberty
- Develop strategies for managing changing emotions

The design and delivery of PSHE across the schools seeks to develop effective preparation for future life in British society. It seeks to develop in every young person the values, skills and behaviours they need to get on in life.

This policy applies to all member of our school community, including those in our EYFS setting. In line with our Provision of Information Policy, this document is available to all interested parties on our website and on request from the main school office and should be read in conjunction with the school's Aims and Ethos and PSHE Policy.

Coworth Flexlands School is fully committed to ensuring that the appliance of the PSHE Policy is non-discriminatory, in line with the UK Equality Act (2010). Further details are available in the school's Equal Opportunity Policy document. Coworth Flexlands School seeks to implement this policy through adherence to the procedures set out in the rest of this document.

This document is reviewed annually by the Deputy Head Wellbeing or as events or legislation change requires.

2. Teaching and Learning

We use a PSHE Programme - 3D PSHE - provided by Dimensions Curriculum, which reflects the 2020 guidance and covers all aspects of Relationships Education and Health Education in an age-appropriate way.

This will be taught mainly by form teachers and class-based TA's but also through school assemblies, events and other activities which take place throughout the school year. There are cross curricular links with many other subjects such as Science and PE but also the teaching in RE and Humanities explores different cultures and religions adding to a balanced view of the world and its diversity.

Mental Health is taught about alongside physical health as part of the scheme and we support their mental health by providing opportunities to reflect on how they are feeling both through talking about this in whole class circle times but also through weekly, small group mentoring sessions with the Prep children and reflection time after play in Pre-prep using the smiley faces chart. Wellbeing drop ins are offered by the Deputy Head Wellbeing, Mr Yates and each class has a question box for pupils to use if they want to ask something anonymously or to indicate they'd like to talk to the teacher. We also celebrate our annual Nurturing Spirit Week in February where we focus on their wellbeing.

There are three underlying core themes taught throughout Dimensions 3D PSHE, within which there is broad overlap and flexibility: -

1. Health and Wellbeing
2. Relationships
3. Living in the Wider World

Pupils are encouraged to participate in a wide variety of activities, enabling them to make significant contributions to both life in school and within the wider community. This allows them to become aware of their skills and talents, develop their self-worth, learn to work as part of a team and take greater responsibility for their own learning. In doing so, they can reflect and evaluate on how they are making progress.

Through exploring living in the wider world pupils learn about the achievements of other cultures, including those outside of Europe. Teaching and other activities delivered as part of the PSHE curriculum encourages respect for all people. Pupils will not be actively encouraged by teachers or others to support particular political viewpoints, but will experience a range of understanding of themselves, their communities and the wider world.

3D PSHE helps pupils to develop and demonstrate skills and attitudes that will allow them to participate fully, and contribute positively, to life in modern Britain. Pupils learn to respect similarities and differences between our diverse cultures in order to build successful and meaningful friendships and relationships that are vital to the world we live in.

3. Early Years Foundation Stage

We teach PSHE and Citizenship to children in Nursery and Reception as an integral part of the EYFS curriculum. We support and encourage children in their play, helping them to develop confidence, a positive self-image and respect for others. Our teaching matches the aim of developing an individual child's personal, emotional and social development as set out in the ELGs. We also support Citizenship education when we teach ‘how to develop a child’s knowledge and understanding of the World’

The 3D PSHE scheme also provides material to support the teaching of the ELG’s mentioned above.

4. Monitoring and Evaluation

The teaching and learning will be monitored by the Head of Pastoral Care to check that this follows the content and to evaluate the effect of different teaching methods and resources. Staff will discuss any issues and or ideas for improvement with the Head of Pastoral Care.

The policy will be reviewed annually, and staff will be consulted. Pupil and parent voice is sought through the annual surveys and pupils can also contribute through our Ambassadors system and parents through the curriculum meetings.
