

Aims and Ethos

Aims:

At Coworth Flexlands, our aim is to Inspire Minds and Nurture Spirit. We also aim to Bring Out the Best in Everyone.

Vision:

Our vision is to enable children to achieve highly as they grow into independent, confident and creative thinkers, who will take their place as future world citizens with a love for learning.

Our vision is delivered in the context of a school with a Christian character which welcomes pupils of all or no faith whilst having the expectation that all pupils will play a full part in the religious aspects of the school.

Ethos:

The ethos of our school is built upon a successful history as well as aspiration and energy for the future. We have the responsibility to provide an education which will enable our pupils to live fulfilled, happy and successful lives beyond the walls of the classroom. This learning will happen during their time with us but they will also take with them habits that last a lifetime. Our school places the pupil at the heart of all that we do, ensuring that every opportunity is given to achieve the following:

- To Inspire Minds through a challenging, investigative curriculum where pupils question the world around them and foster a lifelong love of learning. Pupils are curious to find out more and are afforded endless opportunities for exposure to new and challenging experiences. They are supported to embrace these without fear of failure. Talents are nurtured and pupils are encouraged to follow their passions.
- To Nurture Spirit through the values of kindness, empathy and thoughtfulness. We promote and support a community based on the foundations of love and respect where every individual is valued and celebrated.

Pupils will be given every opportunity to find, reach and grow their potential. They will leave Coworth Flexlands as happy, confident and curious learners, ready to embrace new opportunities and make the most of the world ahead of them.

The aims and ethos were created after consultation with parents, pupils, staff and governors using both formal and informal feedback on what makes our school special.

The School's ethos and aims apply to all members of the school community including EYFS pupils, parents, staff and the local governing body.
